*Yours truly,
Rev. A. J. Fritz.*

(See Page 52.)

We dedicate this book to the memory of our worthy ancestor JOHN VALENTINE KRATZ and his descendants.

PREFACE.

Genealogies are profitable, inasmuch as they are of great interest to all descendants, and become more and more so to future generations in tracing back their lineage.

There is a growing feeling in many families in this respect, and family pride is increasing with a desire to know more of one's ancestors.

In this our second attempt to prepare a family genealogy, it has been our aim and purpose to make it as correct, accurate, and complete as possible.

However, in some respects the work is incomplete owing to the failure of a very few of the connections to respond to inquiries for information and data.

The design of this genealogy is to perpetuate the memory of our worthy ancestor, John Valentine Kratz, and to gather in one volume the names of his many descendants.

We acknowledge ourselves indebted to many of the friends for their kindness in furnishing information for this genealogy. Prominent among those who have shown great interest in the work, and furnished us much information are the following: Abraham F. Kratz, Harleysville, Pa., E. A. Kratz, M. D., Champaign, Ill., Reuben W. Kratz, Pomona, Kansas, H. W. Kratz, Norristown, Pa., H. M. Kratz, Dublin, Pa., Prof. A. B. Fretz, Singac, N. J., Rev. H. A. Hunsicker, Mount Bethel, Pa., J. B. Honsberger, Fenwick, Ont., D. K. Cassel, Philadelphia, Pa., Mrs. Catharine Martin, Jordan Station, Ont., and others.

THE AUTHOR.

INTRODUCTION.

Religious principles have been important factors in American civilization.

Indeed it may be questioned if any other source could have supplied the strength necessary to endure the hardships and dangers braved by the first settlers on our Atlantic seaboard. They have also performed an equally important work in the upbuilding of every section of our great country, in all that glorifies it and makes it the home of a free, intelligent, and virtuous people.

It was said of the Christ, "Herod will seek the young child to destroy him," which illustrates the animus of the world toward principles claiming regnant authority by virtue of inherent right, as it sometimes seems the only way to debase a hated principle is to persecute its living embodiment. Such persons are subjected to all the indignities that malicious cunning may regard necessary to accomplish its purpose.

Persecution makes conspicuous the principles, surrounds with a halo the brow of its martyrs, who, as the world progresses, are lifted to their niche in the temple of fame.

We make then, but a modest affirmation when we declare the name of our first ancestor on American soil, John Valentine Kratz, worthy of Honorable mention. He was a native of Germany* as shown by an old family Bible, handed down direct from him, and held as an heirloom by his family.

His religious principles were those of the Menonites, for which he was driven by persecution from his native land to find a home in America, where he arrived Oct. 16, 1727, as shown by a book entitled "Rupp's Thirty Thousand Emigrants into Pennsylvania from 1727 to 1776."

As advocates of peace principles, the Menonites are far in advance of the prevailing sentiment in this last decade of the Nineteenth Century, and our ancestors were fully a century and a half in advance of the times. But, although, so far in advance their ideas must not be regarded chimerical, for inspiration has declared, "They shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruning-hooks, nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more."

When this prediction has received its fulfillment, the man who centuries before believed its underlying principles, advocated it, and suffered for it, will be honored more than a Cæsar, or a Napoleon. "He shall be called a son of God."

The influence of such a man on his posterity, can hardly be overestimated, and justifies the expectation of an honest, courageous, and intelligent people, which has been fully realized in a family that has spread over nearly every portion of the United States, and Canada, and is represented in every profession and walk in life, from the farm, the workshop, up to the higher schools, Colleges and Universities.

The family is fortunate in having a Historian in the person of Rev. A. J. Fretz, who is connected with it through both of his parents, and has proven himself competent for the work. May his work prove such an incentive to the further representatives of the family that all may lead such noble lives as shall prove them worthy descendants of a noble sire.

LIST OF EXPLANATIONS AND ABBREVIATIONS.

In the preparation of this work it will be observed that all descendants are recorded in the regular order of birth, from the oldest to the youngest, each generation being marked consecutively from first to last. The Roman numerals placed before each name indicates the generation to which they belong, as

- I. John Philip Kratz, (First generation).
- II. John Valentine Kratz, (Second generation).
- III. John Kratz, (Third generation).
- IV. Valentine Kratz, (Fourth generation), etc.

Beginning with the first (I.) ancestor John Philip Kratz, all his children are named in the order of their birth. Then follows his youngest son John Valentine Kratz, (the ancestor in America), (II. Generation) and his children (III. Generation) next. John being the oldest, is followed down to the last of his descendants. Then the other children of John Valentine Kratz having issue, are taken in the order of birth and carried down to the last of their descendants in like manner.

Where marriages occur between members of the connection the husband carries the record. In all such cases a numbered reference is placed after the name and marriage of the wife, as for example (See Index of References No. 1). In the Index of References will be found No. 1, Martha Cline, Page —. On the page given, in the body of the book, the family records will be found. In the general Index will be found the names of all the males of eighteen years and over, and the maiden names of all the females of eighteen years and over; also the pages on which their family records are given in the body of the book.

To find family records See Index of Branches, where names of all that had issue of the second, third and fourth generations are given.

Abbreviations: Mrd. signifies married; Dec'. deceased; Ch. church; Twp. township; Montg. Co., Montgomery Co.; S. single; Ev. Assoc. Evangelical Association.

THE KRATZ FAMILY HISTORY.

I. John Philip Kratz, father of the ancestor of the Kratz family in America, was born in Germany, Oct. 8th, 1665, and died there in 1746, aged 80 years. His wife, died in 1710. Their children were (II.) Anna Eliza, born in 1695. (II.) John, born 1697, died 1704. (II.) John Philip, born 1699. (II.) Anna Maria, born 1703. (II.) Anna, born 1705. (II.) John Valentine, born 1707. (II.) Anna Elizabeth, born 1709.

II. John Valentine Kratz, youngest son of John Philip Kratz, was born in 1707, in the Palatinate, a province of Germany, bordering on the east side of the Rhine.* He died in 1780, aged about 73 years. He emigrated to Pennsylvania in 1727, when he was 20 years old, and arrived in the ship "Friendship", on the 16th of October of said year.

The vessel set sail on the 20th of June, making the voyage in nearly four months. It is said that one of his sisters came with him to this country. Of her we have been unable to learn anything further.

Like many others, persecuted in the land of his nativity, on account of his religious faith, he turned his face toward the new world, the land of religious freedom, leaving the parental roof, the scenes of his youth, and all the kindred associations of the old home, to make his abode among strangers in a strange land.

* By some of the connection, it is thought that John Valentine Kratz was a native of Switzerland, but of this we have no positive proof. According to Rupp's 30,000 names, he was one of 46 emigrants, who emigrated with their families, in all about 200 persons, from the Palatinate to Pennsylvania in 1727. However, during the persecution of the Mennonites in Switzerland by the Calvinists, many of them found refuge for a time in the Palatinate, and afterwards emigrated to other countries.

Here he braved the trials and hardships incident to a new and sparsely settled country, in which wild beasts and savage red men abounded. Here, he with others who like himself had been driven from their homes across the sea by the cruel hand of persecution, aided in erecting shrines and altars around which they worshiped the God of their fathers. Here he prospered and enjoyed the fruit of his labors. Here he lived the quiet unassuming life of an American citizen, and during the period that tried men's souls, he remained true, and loyal to the American cause. He yet lived when the colonies began the arduous struggle for freedom from crowned tyranny, and died amid the thunders of the battles of the Revolution which brought the freedom his children after him enjoyed.

John Valentine Kratz settled in what was then Salford Township, Philadelphia County, now Montgomery County, Pa., where he purchased two tracts of land, one from Gerhart Clemens, and one from the commissioners of property. By warrant granted under the lesser seal bearing date Aug. 3, 1734, there was surveyed to John Valentine Kratz on the 12th day of March following a tract of land in Salford Township, containing 163 acres and 71 perches, with allowance of six percent. for roads and highways, and for which he paid £25, 6s., 8d., and received a patent therefor on Feb. 14, 1736, and is located in Upper Salford. It extended on both sides of the Skippack road to the crossroad below Salfordsville. The other tract which he purchased from Gerhard Clemens and wife, Jan. 30, 1736, contained 53 acres, and for which he paid £53. This tract is located in Lower Salford, and was adjoining his first purchase. Here he built the first house where Milton H. Alderfer now lives.

He also purchased another tract of land containing 68 acres.

In the tax list of 1776 John Valentine Kratz was assessed for 150 acres in Upper Salford,* and 150 acres in Lower Salford. After the death of John Valentine Kratz, the Old Homestead and 150 acres of land were held by his youngset son, Isaac, who was born in 1749. On the other farm of 150 acres in Upper Salford, John Valentine Kratz built the residence where Henry Weber now lives, for his son Valentine.

By his descendants it is said that John Valentine Kratz married Ann Clemens, presumably the daughter of Gerhart Clemens†. She died in 1793.

They were among the original members of the Mennonite church of Salford.

The first meeting house in Salford, in which they worshiped was probably built in 1738. This becoming too small was taken down and built larger about 1770.

The present meeting house was built in 1850. In the adjoining grave-yard to this church were laid to rest all that was mortal of our worthy ancestor, John Valentine Kratz, one hundred and eleven years ago, and his wife Ann ninety-eight years ago. There undisturbed may their ashes rest until the final gathering of the faithful to come forth to inherit the kingdom prepared for them. Their children, in the order of their birth, were as follows: John, Michael, Gerhart, Philip, Abraham, Isaac, Anna, a daughter, Valentine and Isaac.

* Salford Township was divided into Upper and Lower Salford in 1741.

† Gerhart Clemens, born in 1680; died about 1745. Emigrated from Europe to Pennsylvania in 1709. Settled in Montgomery Co., where he made various purchases of lands until he owned in all about 1000 acres.

VII. Jerome F. Honsberger, M. D., born in Haldimand Co., Ont. Oct. 6, 1859. Mrd. Alberta C. Stoddard, of Delhi, Ont., Oct. 14, 1890. P. O., Delhi, Ont. Methodists. Dr. Honsberger received his early education in the district schools, going to school during the winter months, and during the summer assisted on his father's farm. But his ambitious young mind soon made him dissatisfied with his limited education, and the small opportunities which a farm life afford for advancement; accordingly at the age of 17, he, with his brother, began to prepare himself for the 3d class teachers' examination, and with the help of the lady teacher who boarded in their home, by improving every spare moment, often studying till midnight after a hard day's work on the farm, they passed the examination successfully. In the fall succeeding the examination he attended the Model school in Caledonia, obtained his certificate, and at the beginning of the New Year, began teaching. After teaching for three years, he spent a term at the Collegiate Institute, Brantford, and in July 1880 passed the 2d class teachers' examination there, carrying off a scholarship given by that Institution for proficiency. He next attended the Normal School in Toronto, obtained his Professional 2d class certificate, and taught for two years more. But as is often the case he was only using the profession of teaching as a stepping-stone to something higher. Ever since his boyhood he had made up his mind to be a doctor, and now he was about to enter upon the fulfillment of that dream. In the fall of 1882 he began his medical course at Trinity Medical College, Toronto, passed his examinations successfully at the end of each year, and graduated in March, 1886, both from Trinity Medical College and Trinity University, standing at the head of his class at the University. A few weeks later he sailed for England, where he spent six months continuing his studies in the largest hospital, and under the most distinguished physicians of London. Here he passed another examination, taking the degree of Licentiate of the Royal College of Physicians, England. He returned in November, and in the following spring located in Delhi, a thriving little town in Norfolk Co., Ont., where he has worked a large and lucrative practice. Though he has been less than four years in actual practice, Dr. Honsberger is already widely known throughout that district as a clever young physician, whose ability is sure to gain for him a leading place in his profession.

VII. John Honsberger, M. D., born in Lincoln Co., Ont., June 5, 1867. Attends Protestant Episcopal Ch. At the age of five he began to attend the district schools. He soon became passionately fond of studying and always stood well. In 1880 or 1881 he went up for the high school entrance examination at Beamsville, Ont., which he passed. From that time public school was neglected, and in a short time he ceased attendance, preferring to study at home on the farm. In the fall of 1883 he started to high school at Beamsville, and the following year took out a teacher's certificate. In the fall of 1884 he attended Normal school and received his Professional teacher's certificate. He then attended Canada Business College at Hamilton, until the following April, when he returned to high school. In the summer of 1886 he matriculated in medicine at Toronto University, and in October of the same year he entered Trinity Medical College. After a four year's course he was graduated at Trinity University with honors and received the degree of M. D.cec. In the spring of 1889 his father died, before witnessing what had been his life long ambition, viz: to see him made a physician. His vacations during his course were spent in the office of his highly esteemed preceptor, Dr. Jessup of St. Catharines, to whom he is deeply indebted for much most valuable assistance. On May 24, 1890, he removed to Buffalo, N. Y., where he has since been engaged in the practice of his profession, and where he is receiving his share of fame and shekels. S.

VI. Reuben N. Kratz, born in Wayne Co., Ohio, July 2, 1845. In early life he taught in the public schools, and also conducted singing schools in the vicinity of his former home in Wayne Co., Ohio. He was mrd. to Amanda M. Miller, of Akron, Ohio, Sept. 11, 1873. In 1882 they moved to Mitchell, South Dakota. He has been variously occupied as Lumber Merchant, Land Office Clerk, Land Attorney, and at present occupies the position of Register of U. S. Office at Mitchell. He was also one of the founders of the University of Dakota, and is a member of its managing board Methodists. Children: (VII.) Frank E. Kratz, born Oct. 11, 1874; died July 6, 1878. (VII.) Fred. M. Kratz, born Feb. 21, 1879. (VII.) Carl Samuel Kratz, born Feb. 13, 1888.

VI. Henry Elton Kratz, M. A. Ph. D., born in Medina Co., Ohio, Oct. 14, 1849. He prepared himself for college in the common and high schools of his native State, and supported himself by teaching. He first entered Denison University, Granville, Ohio, where he remained two years, and then completed his college course at Wooster University, Wooster, Ohio, graduating with the degree of B. S., in 1874. Later the degree of M. A. was granted him by his Alma Mater, for subsequent work performed. He at once entered upon the work of teaching and has been superintendent and principal of schools in several important cities, principally those of Bucyrus, Ohio, and Dexter, Michigan. In both of these States he was frequently engaged in the institute work by the side of their best educators. In 1881 he went abroad, taking his family with him, and during two years resided in London. While in Europe he made a special study of systems of education, and methods of instruction. He met many of the leading educators of the old world and became familiar with their theories. Opportunities were offered him to observe school work there which he readily and profitably availed himself of, and returned to this country much broadened in his views of education. The year 1885 found him installed in the schools of Mitchell, Dakota, as superintendent, a position he held for four years. He organized and graded these schools, and put them in a condition second to none in the country. His pupils have found easy admission to the schools of our leading cities. He promptly identified himself with the educators of the state, and has been present at every important educational meeting in Dakota since 1886. When the Educational Association organized the reading circle department he was made the chief officer, and in turn made the reading circle one of the vital educational forces of the State. He was three times unanimously chosen president of the State Educational Association, an honor not before conferred on any member. He was also prominently mentioned for the position of Territorial Superintendent of Public Instruction. At the first election for State officers, the leading educators and teachers all over the State made urgent appeal to him to consent to become a candidate for the office of State Superintendent of Public Instruction. Against his better judgment he was finally induced to make an effort to secure the Republican nomination. Unfortunately preceding nominations on the ticket, bunched the rominees in his part of the State, and he was defeated, although even then he received a large number of votes in the convention.

In the spring of 1889, he was called to the chair of Pedagogy and Principalship of the Normal Department of the University of South Dakota, which position he still occupies. Recently he completed a post graduate course in Philosophy and Pedagogy in Wooster University and received the degree of Doctor of Philosophy. "In November 1891, he was unanimously chosen Superintendent of the city schools, to succeed Prof. Charles W. Deane, resigned," at an increase of salary, which was fixed at $2,100 a year. In addition to his other duties he has the chief management of the S. Dakota State Teacher's Circle, conducts Teachers' Institutes, lectures from time to time, and occasionally contributes on educational topics to the press. At the first South Dakota Chautauqua held in the summer of 1891 at Lake Madison, he was director of the summer school, and was unanimously re-elected as director for 1892. Taken altogether it may be seen that Dr. Kratz is an exceedingly busy man.

He was married to Lizzie M. Deal, of Bucyrus, Ohio, July 19, 1876. They are members of the Methodist Episcopal church. Children: (VII.) Horace Elton Kratz, born Nov. 12, 1877. (VII.) Bessie May Kratz, born Jan. 2, 1879. (VII.) Arthur Murray Kratz, born Nov. 5, 1880.

He was born Mar. 30, 1769; died Mar. 7, 1844, aged 74 yrs., 11 mos., 7 ds. They lived and died on the old "Weaver" John Fretz homestead in Bedminster Twp., Bucks Co., Pa. The farm consisting of about 255 acres was inherited from his father. They were honest, upright people, conscientious Christians, and held in high esteem by the community in which they lived. It is related that while Mr. Fretz was working in the field one day, a man rode up, and seeing his fine cows, wanted to buy one, but he did not want to sell. The man, however, insisted, and asked him to set a price. He then thought that if he should ask double what the cow was worth, the man would leave without buying. But, contrary to his expectations, the man laid down the money and drove the cow off. After the man was gone, he talked the matter over with his wife and they decided it was "Usury," so he mounted a horse, rode after the man, and gave him back half of the money, saying, "I don't want to be damned for a cow." They were members of the Mennonite church at Deep Run, of which he was for many years a Deacon. Children: Anna, Rebecca, Jacob, Christian, John, Isaac, Martin, Elizabeth, Barbara, Abraham.

On Sept. 18, 1880, he was mrd. to Sarah, daughter of Abraham L. Leatherman. She died Mar. 21, 1882. An infant son died soon after birth without name. In the fall of 1882 he accepted the nomination of the Republican party as a candidate for the State Legislature, which was tendered him; but his party being in the minority in that year's campaign, he was, with the rest of the ticket defeated. In 1883, the Second Mennonite church at Deep Run called him to be their minister, and he was accordingly ordained by Bishop Moses Gottschall on Oct. 13, 1883, and installed pastor of same. Feeling the pressing need of an English paper in the interest of his branch of the Mennonite church, he with the aid of N. B. Grubb, pastor of the church in Philadelphia, succeeded in October, 1885 in getting out the prospectus of "The Mennonite," which was laid before the conference and accepted as one of the periodicals of the church. He is still one of the editors of the paper, which has steadily increased in popularity and circulation since it was started.

V. Martin Fretz, born on the old Fretz homestead in Bedminster, Pa., Sept. 12, 1808. Mrd. Elizabeth Kratz (daughter of John Kratz, of Skippack, Pa.), Oct. 6, 1831. She was born Aug. 31, 1813; died Mar. 21, 1855. He was variously occupied, as farmer, weaver, miller, and merchant. He at first lived on a farm in Montgomery Co., and afterwards purchased sixty acres of the old Fretz homestead, and some adjoining lands in Bedminster, Bucks Co., where in 1838, he built a dwelling-house, and subsequently a barn, tenant house and other buildings. The farm is now owned and occupied by Reuben Miller. In early life he and wife were members of the Old Mennonite church at Deep Run. About 1847 a division took place in that congregation, and a new meeting-house was built a few hundred yards from the old one. At the time of the division he was a trustee of the old church, but cast his lot with the new church, and was subsequently chosen one of its first ministers. In 1853 he purchased a mill property in Sussex Co., New Jersey, and moved thereon with his family in the spring of 1854. He married for his second wife, widow Margaret E. Hill (maiden name Wintamute), Feb. 14, 1857. She was born Apr. 30, 1817. Soon after marriage, in the spring of 1857, having rented their mill property, he moved to his wife's farm in Warren Co., N. J., where he engaged in farming until the spring of 1862, having disposed of his mill property, he removed to Newton, Sussex Co., where he had built a house and engaged in the commission business. About 1866 he removed to Stillwater, Sussex Co., where he had purchased a home and engaged in merchandise. In the spring of 1882, he again removed to the farm in Warren Co., where he died July 13, 1882. Some years prior to his death he was ordained a Ruling Elder in the Presbyterian church of Stillwater. Amid all the trials and turmoils of his long and eventful life he maintained a strict integrity and died highly respected by the community in which he lived, and honored in the church. The children by the first wife are: Mary, Magdalena, Catharine, Leah, Elizabeth, John, Anna, Theodore, Abraham, Martha, Edwin, Albert. The children by the second wife are: Alva, Lucilla, David.

J., Dec. 14, 1872. He was a member of Lafayette Lodge No. —, I. O. O. F. of Orange.

VI. Abraham James Fretz, born in Bedminster Twp., Bucks Co., Pa., Feb. 7, 1849. At the age of thirteen years he left home and worked as farm laborer, attending school in winter. He was converted in 1865, during the great revival at Newton, N. J. He united with the Presbyterian church and soon after felt called to preach the Gospel. He accordingly entered the Newton Collegiate Institute Jan. 3, 1867, with the ministry of the Presbyterian church in view. In the winter of 1868 he taught school at Mount Benevolence, Sussex Co., N. J. Disagreeing with the doctrines of the Presbyterian church, he subsequently united with the Methodist Episcopal church, July 4, 1868. He was licensed an exhorter Oct. 18, 1869, and a local preacher Mar. 7, 1870. In Sept. 1870 he went to Ohio and attended the Mennonite Seminary at Wadsworth for a year. After visiting friends in Canada, he returned east in the fall of 1872. In the spring of this year (1872) he was appointed pastor of Middle Smithville charge, in Monroe and Pike Co's., Pa., by Rev. N. Vansant, P. E. His labors as pastor of this charge were attended with great spiritual success. He conducted several revival meetings and received into the churches under his care 121 souls. Since then he has served as pastor of the following charges: Stockholm, N. J., 1873; Libertyville and Coleville, 1874; Unionville and Westtown, N. Y., 1875. In the fall of 1876 he attended Wyoming Seminary at Kingston, Pa. Appointed to Hamburg and Ogdensburg, 1877; Hurdstown and Hopatecong, 1878-1879. VI. Jacob Freeman Hendricks, A. M., born in Bedminster, May 15, 1854. He was the youngest, and is now the only surviving child of Benjamin D. and Elizabeth (Fretz) Hendricks. When he became of school age he was sent to the district school. In 1862, through the visitation of death of seven children, but two—the oldest and the youngest—remained. The oldest was led forth from beneath the parental roof the same year, leaving the subject of our sketch the only child at the family fireside.

In '65 his father sold the farm on which he had lived for many years and bought a property near the village of Line Lexington in the Township of Hilltown, and moved thereon. Here the boy resumed his attendance at district school, assisting his father when school was not in session in the work on the farm and in the chores about the place. Between the years of '65 and '70 he induced his father to send him for several short terms to Line Lexington Seminary, then a select school for boys and girls. In the spring of '70, thirsting for still wider educational advantages he induced his father to send him for a twelve weeks' term to the Excelsior Normal Institute at Carversville, then under the principalship of Rev. F. R. S. Hunsicker, D. D. In the fall he entered the profession of teaching, taking charge of a school in Hilltown Township. In the spring of '71 he entered Millersville State Normal school and remained there twelve weeks. In the fall he again took charge of a school in Hilltown Township, and continued teaching in that Township for three successive terms. In the spring of '74 he returned to Millersville and remained one term. In the fall he was examined by County Superintendent Knauss of Lehigh county and granted a provisional certificate with No. 1 in every branch. He was thereupon elected Principal of the schools of Rittersville in that county. After teaching there several months he was granted a professional certificate. In the spring of '75 he once more returned to Millersville and remained to finish his course, graduating in the class of '76. He graduated with the degree of Bachelor of the Elements, and had conferred upon him one of the honors of his class. In the fall he took charge of a school at Breinigsville, Lehigh Co. During this term he gained prominence among the teachers of the county. At Teachers' Institute of that year he was made Secretary of the Institute, appointed to open the discussion on one of the topics, chosen delegate to the State Teachers' Association, and selected as one of the evening lecturers.

In the fall of '77 he took charge of a school in East Donegal Township, Lancaster Co. During this time he gave some attention to public lecturing, appearing among other audiences before the Page Literary Society of Millersville. At the commencement of '78 he received from his Alma Mater the degree of Master of the Elements. In the fall of this year he was elected teacher of the Intermediate Department of the Doylestown Borough Public Schools and before the close of the term was made Principal and Borough Superintendent. In the summer of '79, after winning golden testimonials as a teacher, he left the school-room and turned his face in the direction of the legal profession. He entered the office of Alfred Fackenthall, Esq., Doylestown, and was duly registered as a student at law. In '81 he was admitted to the Bucks County Bar and he at once entered upon the practice of the law at the County Capital. In the spring of '85 Doylestown Borough elected him Justice of the Peace by an overwhelming majority when his party was hopelessly in the minority. The same year he was admitted to the Bryant Literary Union of New York, and again he entered the lecture field. For several years he appeared before County Teachers' Institutes and other distinguished audiences and won the strongest testimonials. At the commencement of '86, Ursinus College conferred upon him the degree of Master of Arts. From the time he turned to the law, he has been closely identified with politics and has been on the stump for his party in every campaign. He has been an ardent believer and zealous worker in the Republican League and has been signally honored by that organization. He has been President of the Doylestown League for two years, delegate from his league to all four of the State conventions, delegate from the State League to the last two National conventions, and for two years the Pennsylvania member of the National League Executive Committee. He is now Notary Public, Clerk of the Town Council, and Chairman of the Republican County Committee. He is Presbyterian in religion, a warm friend of the Sunday-school cause, and an ardent believer in the Society of Christian Endeavor. He has figured prominently as a speaker at public gatherings. In '90 he delivered the annual address before the Literary Societies at the Millersville State Normal School and Ursinus College. He still resides at Doylestown pursuing his several lines of work with courage and vigor, and looking into the future with hope and faith.

VII. Lavina Myers, born Oct. 20, 1881.

VI. Clayton D. Fretz, M. D., son of Abraham and Sarah (Detweiler) Fretz, was born on the old John Fretz homestead in Bedminster, Nov. 16, 1844. At the age of six years his mother died of a lingering illness. He remained at home with his father until the spring of 1855, when he was hired out on the farm of the late Jonas Myers, of Bedminster, where he remained nearly two years. The following year he was with the late Reuben Stover, and the succeeding year with Aaron Tyson, working on the farm in the summer months, and attending school at Bedminster, during the winter terms. His father having resumed farming he returned home in the spring of 1859, and assisted on the farm, attending school during the winter months at Fretz Valley. In the spring of 1862 he attended a term at "The North Wales Institute," under the principalship of A. S. Overholt. He also attended the spring term of 1863, at the same institution. In the summer of 1864 he took a course at Eastman Business College at Poughkepsie, N. Y., graduating July 12. In the autumn of 1862 he secured a certificate of County Superintendent S. S. Overholt, and taught his first term of school in the "Old Octagon" school-house, near Fountainville. He continued teaching for the next three years—teaching at the Monroe School, Durham, and the Fretz Valley school, Bedminster, closing his career as teacher at Crout's school, Rockhill. During this last term he commenced reading medicine under his preceptor, Dr. I. S. Moyer, then at Plumsteadville, Bucks Co. After the close of the school term he devoted all his time to medicine, entered the office of his preceptor as a regular student, and in the autumn of 1866 he matriculated at the Medical Department of the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia. During the succeeding two years he applied himself closely to study, attended the lectures and graduated March 13, 1868. Ten days thereafter, on the 23d of March, he located at Sellersville, Pa., and entered into partnership with Dr. Nelson Applebach, for the practice of his profession. He met with success, and in a few years succeeded in acquiring a lucrative practice, establishing himself in the confidence and esteem of the community. In the autumn of 1871, he dissolved the business partnership with Dr. Applebach to enter into a life partnership with Miss Kate B. Everhart, daughter of the late Dr. Charles W. Everhart, of Sellersville.

The study of Botany and the collection of specimens of plants and flowers has been one of his favorite pursuits. He has added many new and rare plants to the known flora of Bucks county, besides having discovered one new to the State flora and also a variety not before known to science. His herbarium not only contains a complete set of all the plants in Bucks county, but a very large majority of the plants growing east of the Mississippi, including not less than ten thousand specimens and about four thousand different species and varieties.

Dr. Fretz is a member of the Bucks county Medical Society, the Lehigh Valley Medical Association, the Bucks county Historical Society, and the Bucks county branch of the Pennsylvania Forestry Association. III. Philip Kratz, born in Montgomery Co., in 1739; died in 1818, aged 79 years. Mrd. Susanna Krout, of Bedminster, Pa., about 1760. She was born in 1739, died Oct. 1831, aged 92 years. They settled in Bucks Co., near Plumsteadville, where he purchased the farm known as the "Jessup farm" consisting of 200 or more acres. It is still in the family name, and is known as the "Valley Park farm," and occupied by his great-grandson, Reuben Kratz.

He always spelled his name "Fillip Crots." In his old days he became very childish. It is related that as his daughter-in-law was busy at work one day, she thought it would be company for both of them to have him near her. He sat and looked at her very sharply for some time, and then said to his son Philip who had just come in, "Philip, I think you are old enough to get married," to which he replied, "Yes, father, I think I am." Then he said, "here is a nice young woman who seems right industrious, and I think she would make you a very good wife. They then had been married ten years.

During the Revolutionary war, a company or detachment of the Federal army was stationed at Danborough, Pa., and owing to their foraging raids, were known as the "Press Gang." While the ancestors were loyal to the American cause, they did not relish losing their property, and acted accordingly. Upon one occasion a young calf was gobbled up and taken away by the "Press Gang," whereupon Anna, the oldest daughter, saddled her pony and rode over to Danboro, three miles distant, to claim it as her individual property, but before she could make her errand known to the justice, she saw it "knocked in the head," and she sorrowfully returned. During her absence from home word came that the "Press Gang" were returning for horses. Her father and the boys accordingly hid them in the dense thicket close by. Her mother, Susanna, invited the foragers in, and while she was entertaining them at lunch, Anna arrived and took in the situation. All she could do to prevent discovery was to take the pony in the cellar from the outside, which was done, and she kept the horse company, fearful all the time that he might whinny, during her mother's frequent visits to the cellar for refreshments. They finally left empty handed.

Philip, and his wife Susanna, were members of the Mennonite church at Deep Run, and are buried there. Children: Anna, John, Elizabeth, Mary, Henry, Rachel, Susanna, Philip.

VII. Rev. William Louis Garges born Apr. 10, 1849, at Fincastle, Va. At the age of fourteen he was apprenticed to John L. Shryock, with whom he learned the printer's trade, at which he worked one year after serving apprenticeship. He then went to the country and worked as a farm hand for three years. In the winter of 1870 he entered the preparatory department of Muskingum College, of New Concord, Ohio, from which college he graduated, June 24, 1876, paying his own way through college by teaching, having received no financial aid from any one. In the summer of 1869, he joined the U. Presbyterian Church at Rix's Mills, Ohio. In the winter of 1876 and 1877, he entered the Theological Seminary of the U. Presbyterian Ch., at Xenia, Ohio, from which he graduated in Mar. 1880. He was licensed by the Presbytery of Muskingum June 17, 1879 and ordained to the ministry of the U. Presbyterian Ch., by the southern Ill. Presbytery, Sept. 6, 1880. He has served as pastor at Hopewell, Parry Co., Ill., from ordination to Dec. 6, 1881. At Beulah, Crawford Co., Kan., from Oct. 18, 1882 to Apr. 8, 1885, and Nortonville, since June 16, 1885. Now financial ag't. When he entered college it was his intention to fit himself for teaching. In order to do this he determined to take the full classical course. But during his college career his mind was turned toward the ministry, and when he entered the junior year it was with the desire, if the way opened to enter upon this work. This desire grew until, like Paul, he could exclaim, "Woe is me if I preach not the Gospel," and therefore he decided, before the junior year had closed that if the Lord was willing, he would give himself to this work. He was married to Miss Alice E. Kelley, of Muskingum Co., Ohio, June 29, 1875. Children:

VI. Charles Stover, born Sept. 13, 1816; died Mar. 30, 1872. Unmrd. Occupation, miller and farmer in Va. After his brother Albert's death he ran his store for a time. Successful in business he enjoyed the unlimited confidence and respect of the community in which he lived, so much so that at the close of the war, which left the rebel states without the protection of law and order of any kind, the whole community insisted on his acting as County Magistrate, which office he filled until reconstruction of the state government was effected under authority of Congress of U. S. It was well understood all through the war that he was a Union man, but he did not make himself obnoxious by ill-judged intrusion of his sentiments upon others in that section, where it could do no good. Thus he was left alone during the war except that the armies of both sides encamped on his place at Thoroughfare Gap, repeatedly, and left neither fence nor living thing of stock on the place. His losses in property and money caused by the war was about $40,000.

VI. Henry Z. Gill, M. D., born in Northampton Township, Bucks Co., Pa., Oct. 6, 1831. Mrd. Miss Mattie W. Carpenter, of Columbus, Ohio, April 21, 1869; she being the only daughter of Timothy R. Carpenter. After completing his 21st year at home (at the place of birth), he went to a select school kept by John Clark, A. M., about two miles north of New Britain church, remaining several months. He then returned home, taught school for ten months in Plymouth Twp., Montg'y Co., Pa. Some time in 1854 he taught a term of school near Columbus, Ohio. Having injured his eyes by too close application to study, he consulted a physician connected with a College Eye Infirmary, commenced treatment, and after his school term was completed, by the physician's suggestion and recommendation he commenced the study of medicine; his original purpose having been to study civil engineering. After attending a course and a half of lectures, and close reading till the fall of 1856, he went to Jefferson Medical College at Philadelphia, Pa., from which he graduated in March 1857. During his time of study in Columbus, Ohio, he had charge of the dissecting room, and aided in the Eye Infirmary. These two circumstances gave him a taste for surgery and diseases of the eye, which were not neglected, and were of much advantage to him in the general practice of his profession. After graduating he returned to Columbus, Ohio, and commenced to practice, giving especial attention to the eye and ear, though not abandoning the general practice.

The war breaking out in 1861, a call was made for medical men, a law being passed requiring all to pass examination; five years of practice being required, or its equivalent in Hospital for assistants, and ten years for surgeons. Although in the examinations he and another stood equal (third) in the list of over fifty admitted to examination, yet he could be appointed assistant only. In the summer campaign in West Virginia he had the entire work of the regiment until winter, when he had the first severe sickness of his life, and from which he probably never fully recovered. The next summer (1862), foreseeing the probable same experience of all the work with part of the pay of surgeon, he resigned, and was in a few days appointed surgeon of another Regiment, the 95th Ohio, the former being the 11th Ohio Infantry. They were immediately sent to the field in Kentucky, and on Aug. 30, 1862, engaged in the battles (three engagements in one day) of Richmond, Ky., where a large part of the regiment were captured, and many killed and wounded. Remaining six weeks in the enemy's hands with the wounded, they returned paroled to Columbus, Ohio, in October and prepared for the work of 1863 down the Mississippi River, and the siege of Vicksburgh, in all of which he (Dr. Gill) participated. After that campaign and the second attack on Jackson, Miss., they spent the fall and winter in scouting and doing guard duty. He had applied for permission to appear before the United States Medical Board for examination for Surgeon of Volunteers, a higher position than Surgeon of a Regiment, though of the same rank (Major of Cavalry). The number of such was limited by law of Congress. A ten days' examination satisfied the authorities and he received his commission from Abraham Lincoln. (It is believed the first vacancy.) He was at once sent to the Atlanta Campaign, and very early assigned as Surgeon in Chief of the First Division, 20th Army Corps, Gen. Joe Hooker's fighting corps. This position he held to the close of the war, finishing the Atlanta Campaign, the famous march to the sea, the Carolina Campaign, and so on to the great review at Washington in 1865. He went with the Western troop, west to Louisville, Ky., and was honorably mustered out in August, 1865. Spent the fall in traveling, the winter at the Jefferson Medical College.

In May, 1866, he sailed for Europe, where he spent two years of hard study in hospitals; 16 months in Germany, the remainder of the time in Paris, Geneva and London, and returned to New York in May, 1868. Re-commenced the practice of his profession in St. Louis, in Oct. 1868. There he practiced and was Associate Editor of the St. Louis Medical and Surgical Journal until 1873, when at the solicitation of friends he removed to Jerseyville, Ill. About 1875 or 6 the degree of A. M. was conferred on Dr. Gill by McKendree College, Lebanon, Ill., and the degree of L.L. D. by the University of Wooster, Ohio, in 1885, the Medical Department of which was located at Cleveland, Ohio, where he was living and lecturing in the Medical College, occupying the chair of Clinical Surgery. In 1881 he was appointed Physician to Southern Illinois Penitentiary, where he did some of his best work. In March 1865 he received the first Brevet (Lt. Colonel) of any medical officer from the state of Ohio. From Chester, Ill. (Southern Ill. Penitentiary), he was urged to take the chair Surgery in the Medical Department of the University of Wooster, at Cleveland, Ohio, which position he filled for over two years; then resigned on account of overwork and severity of climate. In Oct. 1886 he removed to El Dorado, Butler Co., Kansas, having at that time just completed his work on "Diphtheria, Croup and Tracheotomy," a work which cost him much labor. In the spring of 1855, Dr. Gill joined the M. E. church, of which he has been a member ever since, and has held every official position up to President of the "Lay Electoral Conference" of Southern Ill. Conference in 1883. Their children are: (VII.) Amos Carpenter Gill, born May 6, 1871; died Feb. 22, 1872. (VII.) Elizabeth Carrell Gill, born Sept. 21, 1873. (VII.) Randolph Foster Gill, born Aug. 6, 1880.

The following incident is related as a fact: One of Mrs. Weaver's little boys and another boy, both about 7 years old, were on their way to school one day, a distance of one mile and a half, most of the way through the woods, when they encountered a bear. One of the boys said to the other, "I heard some one say if you walk up to a bear and look in his eyes he will be ashamed of himself and move off in another direction." This the brave little fellows did, and they said the bear hung his head and retreated. When they related their story it was not believed. However, some of the neighbors went to the place where the boys had seen the bear, and sure enough found the tracks. Children: (VIII.) Burdette Weaver, born Dec. 17, 1878; died Aug. 21, 1880.

He is still living on a small farm at Danboro, Pa. It is said pebbles change the course of mighty streams, so little incidents often change the career of many persons, which is fully illustrated in the career of the subject of this sketch. When a boy attending school in a neighboring village, he did the chores and took care of the horses for a doctor, who took a fancy to him, and gave him a little insight into the profession. When he was about to choose for himself, his desire to study medicine was made known to his father, who unfortunately consulted his elder brother Jacob (Henry's uncle), whose prompt reply was, "It will never do for a farmer's son to become a Doctor." So his young ambition was unceremoniously "nipped in the bud." (However, farmer Jacob's oldest boy never worried him about the propriety of becoming a Doctor, for he lost no time in graduating an M. D., and is now a very successful practitioner at New Britain, Pa.) Mr. Kratz was very fond of debating societies, which flourished before and during the war of the Rebellion, and always took an active part on whatever subject was presented. He was an Abolitionist, and has always been a Republican. Some sixteen years ago he was the Republican nominee for the State Legislature. Presbyterians. Children (all raised on a portion of the Kratz homestead): Edwin, Alonzo, Annetta, Emily, Henry, Jourdan, Catharine, Reuben, Albert, Ellen, Anson, Fernando.

VI. Edwin Augustus Kratz, M. D., born July 12, 1844. In early life he assisted his father on the farm, and attended school. His patriotic spirit and desire to defend the flag, when it was fired upon, and trampled under foot by scornful rebels and traitors, was as strong as his brothers, and his determination was to go to war; but when the family council decided that only one of them could go, he yielded; however hoping that he might yet have an opportunity of "fighting rebels" before the war closed. When the longed for opportunity came, his choice was the Navy; but no word from his brother Alonzo for thirty days, created considerable alarm in the minds of those at home for his safety. It was suggested that he would have a better chance to meet him, if he was in the army; hence he carried a musket. He enlisted in Philadelphia Aug. 16, 1864, as a private in Co. A. (Captain Stanton), 198 Regt., Penna. Vol., (Col. H. G. Sickel.) It was known as the "Sixth Union League regiment" which that Loyal and patriotic organization recruited. The regiment was mustered into the United States service Sept. 5, 1864, and on the 18th left camp Cadwallader, for the scene of action, arriving at the front on the 23d, and in seven days thereafter was under fire. They were assigned to the 1st Brigade (Gen. Chamberlain), 1st Division (Gen. Griffin), 5th Corps (Gen. Warren), Army of the Potomac (Gen. Meade).

Immediately after arriving at the front, Mr. Kratz was detailed as clerk at Brigade Inspectors headquarters; but when the regiment went into battle, he was sent to his command. When he got back to his company, his bayonet, and accoutrements were missing. He went into the fight without any cartridges, but soon filled his pockets with those he found scattered about. With this experience he refused any further clerkship. On Oct. 26th he learned that his brother Alonzo had been captured three months previously, and was in Dannville, Va. This determined him more than ever, never to be taken alive if possible; so when he was wounded and saw the rebels face to face, it gave him strength to get out of their reach, before he fell exhausted. At the battle of Dinwiddie C. H. (Gravelly Run), Mar. 29, 1865, he was wounded, shot through the chest, in the right arm, and in the left fore-arm. The orderly Sergt. reported him killed, and his letter to the captain a month later was the first knowledge of his condition. He was taken from the field to Mt. Pleasant Hospital, Washington, D. C., where he laid on his back for seven weeks, and was discharged from the service July 13th, an invalid for life. The battles in which he fought were: Preeble's Farm, Va., Sept. 30, 1864; South Side R. R., Va., Oct. 27—8, 1864; Warren's Raid to Welden Railroad, Va., Dec. 6—12, 1864; Hatcher's Run, Va., Feb. 6—9, 1865; recapture of Fort Steedman, Va., Mar. 25, 1865; Dinwiddie C. H., Va., Mar. 29, 1865.

After his return from the war he began the study of medicine, and is at this present time a resident physician of Champaign, Ill. He has occupied many positions of honor and trust. He was supervisor of Champaign Twp., for one year, clerk of Champaign City four years. Director of Champaign public library eighteen years. Director of Champaign Branch, Illinois Humane Society. United States examining surgeon for pensions eighteen years. Captain and Assistant surgeon Illinois National Guards, and a past Post Commander of the Grand Army of the Republic, and is now medical director of the department Illinois G. A. R. He is also member of the orders of Masons and Odd Fellows. In politics he is a Republican, and was unanimously nominated for mayor by the republicans of Champaign City in the spring of 1891, but through rum, boodle and treachery he was with the rest of the ticket defeated. He was married to Anna Mary Bradley, widow of Lewis H. Beidler, May 8, 1884. Children: (VII.) Alonzo Plumsted. Kratz, born June 17, 1885. (VII.) Ethel Gyola Kratz, born Oct. 20, 1887. (VII.) Edwin Valentine Kratz, born Mar. 31, 1890.

VI. Alonzo Philip Kratz, born July 26, 1845; died Feb. 12, 1865. At the age of seventeen he enlisted in Doylestown, Pa., on Aug. 8, 1862, as a private in Company F, 128 Regiment Pa., Vol., for nine months in the United States services. The reg't., soon went to the front. His first letter was dated at Camp Wells, Va., Aug. 12, 1862, from which it appears that army life agreed with him, he says: "We don't get victuals like at home, but what we do get is enough and healthy; soft bread comes this way once a week." After the battle of Antietam he wrote, "It was a hard fight, and I do not want to get in another like it. The rebels loaded their guns with a large round ball and three buck-shot, these flew around us like hail. We loaded our muskets with a large pointed ball, and it did some execution. A soldier who has once fought for his country, will never forget it, neither should he be forgotten." On Jan. 16, 1863 at Fairfax Station, Va., he says, "Our winter hut is built; it is of logs two feet high, and our tent is the roof: It is a comfortable house that will keep us dry and warm." On Mar. 25, 1863 he wrote from Brook's Station, Va., "We have five weeks yet to serve; we have been in several skirmishes besides the great battle Sept. 17 (Antietam), and there may be another big fight this spring, before our time is out. Gen. Hooker is getting impatient at this inaction. There is some talk among the boys of re-enlisting, but I think I will go home, although I don't believe I shall be satisfied with home life as long as the war is going on." The anticipated battle was Chancellorsville, through it he passed without a scratch, and was discharged at the end of his term of service, with the following certificate. "This is to certify that Alonzo Philip Kratz was one of the most patriotic soldiers in Company F, (commanded by C. K. Frankenfield), always at his post performing a soldier's duty cheerfully, and I can recommend him as the bravest of the brave, in meeting the foe and daring in battle. T. J. Kline. Orderly Sergt., Co., F. 128 Pa., Vol.

He came home in June 1863, and seemed glad enough to get back to "God's country again; but the outdoor life of a soldier, who so often slept with the blue vault of heaven for a covering, had completely changed his disposition. It was weeks before he could sleep on a soft bed, and enjoy a good meal. His patriotic spirit finally prevailed, to take up arms again; he always spoke of the Artillery service as being the most agreeable, and least dangerous to life and limb; that he would go in the heavy Artillery next. With this object in view, he went to Philadelphia shortly after New Years day, 1864, and enlisted in Battery D, 112 Regt., Penna. H. A. The regt. was, however, supplied with muskets, and served as the "2 Penna. Provisional Volunteers," there being more demand for that branch than Artillery; and he was promoted to Corporal of Company I. The regiment was mustered as "Veteran", and immediately went to the front leaving behind fifty brave and true men, of which number he was one for detached duty in Philadelphia. After guarding various places in the city for three months, he was sent to his regiment in the field, Apr. 24.

A letter dated July 3, 1864, near Petersburg, Va., gives an account of the fierce fighting of the rebels at the Weldon R. R., where they charged the Union lines six deep without breaking it; also that they had blown up two rebel forts, and are mining another and a bigger one, and when ready to explode, they will fight day and night if necessary to capture Petersburg, Va. His last letter from the field, is dated July 17, 1864, in which he says, "have been acting as sergeant for two months, and expect to be promoted to that office, as soon as the captain recovers from wounds received in battle." The coveted promotion never came. He was captured July 29, at the explosion referred to (Burnside's mine), and carried away into captivity. He was confined in the famous Libby prison at Richmond, Va., for a while, and then removed to the stockade pen at Danville, Va. The "last letter" received from him was written in the latter place, dated Aug 3d, 1864; it was mailed at Old Point Comfort, and did not reach home until October 19, 1864. It was written with a led pencil in two hand writings, the first half was in his writing, which gave the date and circumstances of his capture, and where he was a prisoner. The last half showed unmistakably, that it was erased and written in another hand; this purported to give the comfortable quarters he had, kind treatment he received at the hands of the rebels, and the quantity and quality of healthy food given him.

After the close of the war it was learned that he was an unwilling guest of rebeldom six months, and died Feb. 12, 1865 of starvation and exposure. He is buried in the National Cemetery at Danville, Va., grave 130, section A., division four. A brave and patriotic life sacrificed for country and flag. Battles he was in: Antietam, Va., Sept. 1862. Chancellorsville, Va., May 1863. Ream's Station, Va., June 1864 (Weldon R. R.), and Burnside's Mine, Va., July 1864.

VI. Annetta Kratz, M. D., born in Plumstead Twp., Bucks Co., Pa. At the age of four years, she attended the public school. After attending school at North Wales, and the Excelsior Normal at Carversville, she commenced teaching at the age of 16. Believing it was best for women patients to be attended by women physicians, she studied medicine in Philadelphia, and occupied the position of interne in the New England Hospital for women in Boston, Mass., for 18 months. Prejudice against "women doctors," was very fierce at that time (1869) and the students of the university actually collected to mob the women students when dismissed from lecture. The ladies with quiet dignity, however, came off the victors. Miss Kratz also attended the College of Pharmacy, the first year that women were admitted. After graduating in 1871, she began the practice of her profession at Lansdale, Pa., where she is also managing a drugstore. Attends the Presbyterian church and is unmarried.

VI. Emily Augusta Kratz, born May 15, 1848; died (single) Aug. 31, 1879.

VI. Henry Stover Kratz, born in Plumstead, Pa., June 4, 1849. He is by trade a carriage painter, and for rapidity, delicacy and accuracy of striping and lettering won for himself the name of "Dexter," among the craft. He also has a fine voice for singing, and often delighted his friends with his solos. In 1878 he went to Fort Worth, Texas, where he is engaged as bookseller and publisher. He is unmarried.

VI. Jourdan H. Kratz, born Oct. 12, 1850. Married Margaret C., daughter of William Kerr Bowman, of Philadelphia, Pa. He was a member of the Pa. Military for some time. He is now extensively engaged in farming and fruit culture, near Greenwood Station, Del. Presbyterians. Children: (VII.) Edwin Augustus Kratz, born Apr. 28, 1880. (VII.) Jourdan Homer Kratz, born Dec. 24, 1881. (VII.) William Henry Kratz, born Sept. 17, 1884. (VII.) Ely Laird Kratz, born Aug. 31, 1889.

VI. Catharine Kratz, born Jan. 25, 1852. She is a successful teacher in the public schools of Bucks and Montgomery counties, Pa. Presbyterian. She is unmarried.

VI. Reuben S. Kratz, born July 7, 1853. Married A. Kate Persey, of Buckingham, Feb. 20, 1889. At the age of 20 he enlisted in the emergency company to quell the rioters at Pittsburg and the West. He afterward enlisted in a military company of state guards. He owns and occupies a part of the old homestead in Plumstead, known as the "Valley Park farm." The house in which he lives was built by his grandfather Philip Jr., in 1819. Mrs. Kratz was born in June 28, 1857. Presbyterians. One child, viz.: (VII.) T. Percy Kratz, born Feb. 4, 1890.

VI. Albert Kratz, born Sept. 1, 1854; died Aug. 23, 1856.

VI. Ellen Kratz, born Sept. 25, 1855; died Nov. 10, 1856.

VI. Anson Burlingame Kratz, born Nov. 22, 1856; died Oct. 20, 1859.

VI. Fernando Kratz, born—, painter by trade, but is now engaged in farming at Danboro. He is a member of the Pennsylvania military, and participated in the Divisional Encampment at Mt. Gretna in 1887 and 1890, and Norristown in 1889, also all the military parades at West Chester, Pa., Philadelphia, Washington, D. C. and New York. He is a Royal Mason, and received his first degree in 1885. Presbyterian. He is unmarried.

V. Leah Kratz, born Dec. 6, 1824. In early life she taught school in various parts of Plumstead Twp., Pa., for a number of years. In 1860, after the death of her mother she moved to a sister in Ohio; and in 1870 to Champaign, Ill., where she devotes a great deal of her time to the Baptist church and charities.

IV. There were three or four children born whose names and sex are unknown. Two of them died the same day and were buried in one grave.

DESCENDANTS OF ABRAHAM KRATZ. SON OF JOHN VALENTINE KRATZ.

III. Abraham Kratz, born in Montg., Co., 1741; died in 1717. Mrd. Barbara, daughter of Christian Moyer. They lived in New Britain Twp., about one-fourth of a mile east from the Upper Hilltown Baptist church, and a few hundred yards from the stump road, where Frederick Steeb now lives, where in 1767 he purchased the Williams' Homestead with 188 acres. The buildings are a well built stone house two stories high, and a stone barn. These buildings were, no doubt erected by a Welsh settler of colonial times named William Williams (a descendant of the notable Rodger Williams, founder of Rhode Island) who in 1747 purchased 307 acres, and lived thereon just twenty years, when he sold as above stated to Abraham Kratz. This homestead remained in the possession of Abraham Kratz, during the remainder of his life, and of his son Valentine, who inherited the homestead and 110 acres, and Simeon, who inherited it from his father Valentine. Abraham Kratz and wife were members of the Mennonite church at Deep Run, and are buried there. Children: Anna, Mary, Valentine, Susanna, Barbara, Veronica, Magdalena, Elizabeth, Abraham, Catharine.

IV. Anna Kratz, born in Bucks Co., Sept. 11, 1768; died June 24, 1816. Mrd. Martin Fretz, son of Christian and Barbara Fretz, of Bedminster. He was born Aug. 9, 1764; died Sept. 26, 1835. Farmer and Linseed oil manufacturer. He lived in Hilltown Twp., near Yost's Mill, on the farm now occupied by Jacob Smith. He was an honest, upright man, and held in high esteem. As a Christian, he endeavored faithfully to discharge his religious duties, in all of which he was conscientiously strict. He never allowed any member of his family to leave the church before the benediction was pronounced. An adage of his was: "Wer naus geht vor dem Segen, geht dem Fluch entgegen." Though, at times taking a smoke, it was a saying of his, "that he never wanted to be a slave to tobacco or whisky." In the time of the subject of this sketch, many of the luxuries of the present day were not enjoyed. There were no carpets and no parlor matches in those days. Sometimes they had to go to neighbors for fire, and on one occasion the Fretz meadow was set on fire by borrowed fire.

For the married girls in those days the dry goods outfit was mostly homemade. The spinning wheel was one of the fixtures of the family, and in this family of ten girls there were six spinning wheels going at one time, commencing at 5 o'clock in the morning and continuing until 10 and 11 P. M. One of the daughters, Mrs. Susanna Funk, generally spun eighteen cuts of flax per day, and one day she spun twenty cuts. The reel and the shaving bench were in the same room. Martin Fretz was one of the first to get a Dearborn pleasure wagon. Bows and cover were taken along and if wanted in case of rain they were put up. Among the relics of this home is a bar of soap made by his wife in 1816, one of her last acts, now in the possession of a granddaughter, Esther Hunsberger, of Dublin, Pa. They were members of the Mennonite church at Blooming Glen, where he and wife lie buried. Children: Barbara, Mary, Agnes, Betsy, Betsy, Nancy, Veronica, Martin, Martin, Susanna, Silas, Veronica, Catharine, Leah, Rachel.

V. Barbara Fretz, born Sept. 11, 1787; died in 1879, from the effects of a broken limb occasioned by a fall. Mrd. Rudolph Moyer, in the spring of 1807. He died in 1871. Farmer. Mennonites. Children: Mary, Martin, Nancy, Catharine, Enos, Christian, Abraham.

VI. John Fretz Funk, born in Hilltown Twp., Bucks Co., Pa., Apr. 6, 1835. He worked on the farm as soon as he was old enough, going to school in the winter season until he was in his nineteenth year (1854), when he commenced teaching in his native township, and taught during the winter for three successive winters. He also attended school at Freeland Seminary three months during summer of 1855, and again in 1856. In the spring of 1857, after closing his school at Chestnut Ridge S. H., in Hilltown Twp., he went to Chicago, Ill., and engaged in the lumber business, in which he continued nine years.

In the winter of 1859/60 he became a member of the Mennonite church at Line Lexington, Bucks Co., Pa. In January of 1864 he commenced the publication of the Herald of Truth and Der Herold der Wahrheit, and on the 19th of the same month was married to Salome Kratz, daughter of Jacob Kratz of Hilltown, Bucks Co., Pa. On the 28th of May 1865, he was ordained to the ministry in the Mennonite church near Gardner, Grundy Co., Ill. In April 1867 he removed to Elkhart, Ind., and established there the business house now known as the "Mennonite Publishing Company", first under his own name, and afterwards under the firm name of John F. Funk and Brother, after having associated with himself his brother Abraham K. Funk, and continued the business under this firm name until May 14, 1875, when the Mennonite Publishing Co., was organized. Children: (VII.) Martha. (VII.) Susan Mary (dec'd). (VII.) Phoebe. (VII.) Rebecca (dec'd). (VII.) Grace Anna (dec'd). (VII.) John Edwin (dec'd).

VI. Sarah Funk, born in Hilltown Twp., Bucks Co., Apr. 24, 1837; died Aug. 20, 1839.

VI. Abraham Kratz Funk, born in Hilltown, Bucks Co., Jan. 20, 1840. His early years were spent on his father's farm. He attended school about four months usually in the winter, and a month or two during the summer. He commenced teaching in the public schools of the county, at the age of 18, under the county superintendency of Wm. H. Johnson. He attended school at Freeland Seminary, at Freeland, now Collegeville, Montgomery Co., in 1859, and the Excelsior Normal Institute, at Carversville, Bucks Co., in 1861. After spending five years in farming during the summer and teaching in winter, he went to Chicago, Ill., in the spring of 1863 and engaged in the Lumber business. After a residence of five years in Chicago, he went to Elkhart, and there entered into a co-partnership with his brother, under the firm name of John F. Funk and Brother, as publishers and booksellers. They continued the publication of the Herald of Truth and Der Herold der Wahrheit, and also issued during the continuance of this co-partnership a number of religious works, the most important of which was the great book of martyrs, in the german language, containing over 1100 quarto pages, and the complete works of Menno Simon, which was translated from the Holland and printed in English. In 1875 he became one of the principal stockholders in the Mennonite Publishing Co., which was then organized, and has since held the position of secretary and treasurer of that institution. He married Annie M. Landis, daughter of Joseph and Mary (Geil) Landis, of Greer's Corner, near Dublin, Bucks Co., Pa., Mar. 11, 1872. Mennonites. Children: (VII.) Mary Maude. (VII.) Edna Josephine. (VII.) Esther Winifred.

VI. Jacob Silas Funk was born in Hilltown Twp., Bucks Co., Pa., Apr. 13, 1842. He spent his early days on his father's farm, and received, as was customary in those days, a fair, common school education. He afterwards, during the early part of 1862 and the summer of 1863, spent two terms at the Excelsior Normal Institute, at Carversville, Bucks Co. He taught in the schools of his native county, from 1862 to 1865. In the spring of 1865 he gave up that vocation and went to Chicago, Ill., and engaged in the lumber business. On the 28th of Sept., of the same year he purchased a scholarship in the Eastman Business College of that city, and took a commercial course, attending evenings only. After four years residence in Chicago, he determined to engage in business for himself, and accordingly, in the spring of 1869, located at Chillicothe, Mo., where he opened a lumber yard and commenced business on his own account. On the 15th of January following (1870), he was married to Annie K. Stover, daughter of Jonas Stover, of E. Rockhill Twp., Bucks Co., Pa. He afterwards became connected with the North Western Lumber Co., who had their mills at Eau Claire, Wisconsin, and extensive yards at Hannibal, Mo.; and on the 20th of April 1880 moved with his family from Chillicothe to Hannibal. Afterwards when the duties of his position required him to be mostly in the neighborhood where the mills of the company were located, he found it more economical and convenient to have his family in that vicinity also, and accordingly, on the 20th of July 1885, he removed to Minneapolis, Minn. He continued with the above firm eleven years, during which time he gained with them the highest esteem and respect, both for his conscientious business integrity and his excellent qualifications for the work in which he was engaged. In the spring of 1890 he severed his relations with the N. W. Lumber Co., but the warm feeling of esteem and respect which he had won for himself during these extended business relations continued to the end of his life.

He took an active part in the various civil, social and religious movements of the day, and was always ready and willing to assist in all enterprises of public interest, and held continuously positions of responsibility and honor. Soon after his removal to Chillicothe, in 1869, he was elected superintendent of the Sunday-school of the Presbyterian church of that city, which position he held until his removal to Hannibal in 1880. He was converted and united with the Third Presbyterian church of Chicago during the time of his residence there. In 1871 or '72 he was elected elder of the First Presbyterian church of Chillicothe. He was secretary of the school board of that city, and through his influence was built the beautiful new school building, costing from $45,000 to $50,000. In 1875 he was also member of the city council. During the last three years of his residence in Chillicothe he was correspondent of the "Globe Democrat," a republican paper of St. Louis. During the summer of 1890, after severing his connection with the N. W. L. Co., he, with A. Fiero, was appointed, by the lumber manufacturers of the N. W., to inspect the system of grading employed by the leading manufacturers of the north-west, and their report was received with much favor and satisfaction. After the completion of this commission, he became connected with the T. B. Scott Lumber Co., of Merrill, Wis., and during a business trip through Illinois and Indiana, he was taken sick with a severe bilious attack, and after nearly a week of suffering in hotels, in Terre Haute, Ind., Chicago, Ill., and on the road, he reached his home in Minneapolis, Minn., on the 22d of September. The disease assumed a complicated form which resulted in blood poisoning, and after three weeks more of intense suffering, which he bore with patience, he died on the 15th of Oct. 1890, aged 48 yr., 6 m. 2 d. V. Rachel Fretz, born in Hilltown Twp., Bucks Co., Pa., Jan. 1, 1814; died Dec. 11, 1858. At an early age she lost her mother, and the only remembrances she had of her fond parent were the recollections of early childhood. It is related that on the day of her mother's funeral she stood beside her casket, calling her mamma to listen to her childlike questions. She received such educational advantages as the public schools of that early period afforded. She read both German and English well, and in later years the reading of German poetry afforded her especial pleasure. She was a constant reader of the Bible, and delighted to call the attention of her own family to the beauty of its precepts. She was married to Henry S. Krout, of Bedminster, Nov. 2, 1835. He was born Apr. 10, 1810; died May 30, 1888. They lived near Line Lexington for eight years. Then moved to the homestead of the Krout family, on the Deep Run, where six more years of their busy lives were spent in tilling the soil that had been cultivated for more than a century by the paternal ancestral line. While residing here they determined to own a home of their own, and purchased and occupied the Kramer farm, on the east branch of Perkiomen Creek. While living here the family ties were broken. The mother having contracted consumption, was called to precede the rest of the family circle and join the great majority in the eternal world, beyond the shadowy vale. She was a truly pious mother, and her chief care was to bring up her children in the nurture and admonition of the Lord. Above all she loved her family, her church, her Savior and her God. They were members of the Mennonite church at Deep Run. Children: Jacob, Martin, Abraham, John.

VI. Jacob F. Krout, born in Bucks Co., Pa., Oct. 29, 1836. He always lived under the parental roof, and after the decease of his father, came into possession of the homestead in Bedminster, where he is the proprietor of the farm and the Bedminster Nursery of Fruit and Ornamental Trees. By industry and frugality he has acquired much success as a farmer and nurseryman. He is unmarried, and a member of the Mennonite church at Deep Run.

VI. Martin F. Krout, born in Bucks Co., Pa., Nov. 3, 1838; died Apr. 20, 1876. He lived with his parents and worked on the farm until he was twenty-one years of age. He then took a position in a mercantile house in Philadelphia, where, during his four years of service, he became thoroughly conversant with the business and enjoyed the confidence of all. In 1862 he went to River Styx, Ohio, and engaged in farming, in which business he continued for a time. He then purchased a farm near that town, and settled upon it, where he remained until his death. He married Rebecca, daughter of Dr. William Andrews, of River Styx, Ohio, Oct. 2, 1864. Children: (VII.) James H. Krout, born Apr. 30, 1866. (VII.) William Arthur Krout, born Apr. 20, 1871.

VI. Abraham F. K. Krout, born in Bucks Co., Pa., Feb. 2, 1843. He lived at home until he was nineteen years of age. He then entered the North Wales Institute to obtain a more thorough education than the public schools afforded. Here he remained about a year. In the fall of 1862 he commenced teaching, and until 1868 taught successively in the Deep Run, Rocky Ridge, Algard, Sellersville and Plumsteadville schools. In 1868 he took charge of the West Bethlehem schools, Lehigh Co., and in 1869 accepted the Principalship of Coplay schools, in the same County. Here he remained from Sept. '69 to June '83, when he asked to be relieved to become the accountant and cashier for Coplay Iron Co. This position he held from July '83 to Oct. '88. In the fall of 1889 he took charge of the Borough schools of Emlenton, Venango Co., Pa., where as Principal he re-organized the school system and introduced a number of important changes for the improvement of the public schools in that municipality. Having been offered still better inducements by the Board of Education of the Lehighton Borough Schools, he will in the future have the Principalship and supervision of the schools of that growing town on the Lehigh.

Through all these years of teaching there is one idea that has never been lost sight of, namely, that of self-improvement. The schooling at the academy was only the beginning of a life of study. In 1876 he appeared before the State Board of Examiners, passed the examination, and was granted a Normal Certificate as Teacher of Didactics. He found much pleasure in pursuing a course of general studies in science and language, and in 1877 Franklin and Marshall College recognized his industry as a student and conferred on him the honorary degree of A. M. He has been a member of Pa. State Teachers' Association since 1877, and an active member of the Touvey Botanical Club of Columbia College, New York City, since Oct. 1881.

Having the confidence of the people at his permanent home in Coplay, he was frequently called upon to fill positions of honor and responsibility. He was the first commissioned Justice of the Peace for this Borough, and has continuously held this office from 1869 to 1890. He was Secretary of Town Council for thirteen years, and a School Director while serving the Coplay Iron Co. The Judges the Courts frequently appointed him to serve on Road Juries and Commissions, and there are few Townships in Lehigh County in which he has not been called to execute these appointments. Being a member of the Ref. Ch. he took an active interest in the founding of Trinity Congregation, at Coplay, in 1872. He served as deacon and was for many years the Secretary of the Consistory. He was the Superintendent of the Sabbath-schools of this congregation for eighteen years. He married Mary C. Moyer, of Skippack, Montgomery

Co., Pa., Oct. 1, 1868. Children: (VII.) Mabel Olivia Krout, born Dec. 25, 1871. (VII.) Jacob Henry Krout, born May 16, 1874. (VII.) Clarence A. Krout, born May 3, 1883; died Sept. 12, 1883. (VII.) Helen Rachel Krout, born Nov. 5, 1885.

VI. John H. Krout, born in Bucks Co., Pa., June 26, 1845; died Mar. 22, 1888. He worked on the farm until of age. After having taught one term of school he went to Philadelphia and engaged as clerk, and afterwards followed the mercantile business in Montgomery and Lancaster Counties. He was a member of the Roman Catholic Church.

V. Reuben W. Kratz, born in New Britain, Bucks Co., Pa., Feb. 23, 1838. In the fall of 1852 his father and mother died in the space of five weeks. Left an orphan at the early age of 14 years, he went to Plumstead, Pa., where he attended one winter term of school. In the following spring he hired to H. K. Myers for eight months at farm work. Then apprenticed to his brother Abraham at wagon-making, serving one year and nine months. In the spring of 1856, he faced towards the West, believing there were better things in store for the young than in the densely inhabited East; went to Whiteside Co., Ill., and worked at wagon-making, breaking prairie with an ox team, threshing, etc. In the spring of 1860, he married Emeline A. Swena, of Sterling, Ill. In the spring of 1863 they loaded their goods and effects in an old wagon and started for Kansas. Their whole wealth consisted of a team, wagon, bed, stove, a few minor articles of household goods, and $21 in cash. They started for a point in eastern Kansas to find a home for themselves, and on May 10, 1863, located where they now reside, in Appanoose Twp. (P. O., Pomona), Franklin Co., Kansas. Here they lived in a log cabin with puncheon floor and clapboard roof. In August Mr. Kratz joined the State Militia, and served in Kansas and Missouri 18 months. While on such duty the family remained without a protector, and he had permission to go home at times and get supplies for their maintenance. The nearest mill was 20 miles away and run only one day in a week. The nearest trading store was at Lawrence, 32 miles distant. The Militia was disbanded in 1864, and from that time Mr. Kratz was able to be at home and care for his family. Neighbors were a long distance apart. No settlement except along the streams, and it was common to visit neighbors 10 or 12 miles distant. The Sac and Fox reserve was near by and Indians were plenty, but always peaceable and friendly. Mrs. Kratz was left alone one night, and, sleeping with the doors open, several Indians entered to inquire for whisky. She informed them the whisky, if there was any, was at the wakeup, about three miles distant, and they retired.

In the winter of 1865, through the kindness of two of their old neighbors in Illinois, Messrs. C. C. Alexander and John Benjamin, who advanced the money, they were able to buy a stock farm of 152 acres; 37 acres of this was afterwards sold to assist in paying for the balance. In 1878 Mr. Kratz purchased 240 acres, making a farm at this date of 355 acres. In the spring of 1866 he erected a log cabin 16x16 feet foundation. This the family occupied until the fall of 1873, when a more commodious house was built, but this the family soon outgrew, and in the spring of 1886 a house costing over $3,000 was erected. In an early day Mr. Kratz determined to give strict attention to raising stock, and he has never allowed himself to lose sight of this idea. He has at times 150 head of cattle, 40 head of horses, and 200 hogs feeding, making a specialty of fattening beef cattle. The business has not always been prosperous, owing to grasshoppers, chinch bugs and dry weather. School facilities have always been good—probably as good as many in the older states. Mr. Kratz has served on the School Board in his district 24 years. He and wife are members of the Congregational Ch. Children: Frances, William, Horace, Lemuel, Amy, Harriet, Esther.

VI. Frances R. Kratz, born Dec. 26, 1860. Mrd. Watson Beaman, Mar. 11, 1884. P. O., Coronado, Kans. Children: (VII.) Chaney Ray Beaman,* born Feb. 3, 1885; died Aug. 23, 1890. (VII.) * While out herding stock he rode his horse onto an old well covered over with boards and dirt, and which, breaking through, precipitated him down 108 feet to the bottom and the horse on top of him. His mother was the first to go down into the well by a hastily-improvised windlass and rope to rescue the mangled remains of her first born.

Alonzo. *Mother Clemens was born at Pleasant Valley, Pa., Nov. 21, 1811; died Mar. 10, 1890. They lived on a farm and tannery at Springtown, until 1868, they moved to Bethlehem, where, four years later, the King of kings whom he faithfully served received Father Clemens into the mansions not made with hands eternal in the heavens. Mother Clemens survived her husband 18 long years in the home at Bethlehem, where she also died. She reared an interesting family of nine chil-dren, who with 19 grandchildren, and 7 great-grandchildren remain to mourn their loss. Mother Clemens was a bright, intelligent, and well informed woman. Above all she was a good, devoted, noble-hearted Christian, and an excellent Bible student. At the age of 23 she gave her heart to Jesus, and joined the Evangelical Association and remained faithful to God and the church until called from labor to reward. A liberal supporter, an earnest worker in the church, she also did much for the itinerant preachers of her church, and her home was usually their stopping place.

She was a good mother to all, giving good advice and counsel to all with whom she came in contact. One young man plucked as a brand from the eternal burning, who said he never heeded any minister of the gospel, was a drunkard, atheist, and a very profane man. By the constant admonition of mother Clemens, he finally amended his ways. This young man was her last class-leader on earth, and has since become a minister of the gospel. In her last hours she said, "Christ is still my stay and staff. We must all be sanctified, I can die in peace." Mother Clemens took great delight in speaking about the battles and victories in Christ's service, in hearing old choruses sung, and the word of God read, and prayer, during which, even in the midst of all her sufferings she would clap her hands and shout for joy. Her's was indeed the death of the righteous, and precious in the sight of the Lord. To her children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren, how sweet, how impressive, and how inviting are her last words "Good-bye, meet me in heaven."

VI. Annie C. Gotwals, born Sept. 23, 1853. Mrd. Rev. Henry A. Hunsicker (his second wife), May 11, 1876. P. O., Mount Bethel, Pa. Mr. Hunsicker was born near Trappe, Montg. Co., Nov. 10, 1825. Spent his boyhood days on his father's farm, and had only the limited advantages of the country schools of that time. In 1835 Henry Prizer opened a Boarding School in the village of Trappe. He died in 1838 and was succeeded in the school by Rev. Henry S. Rodenbough. This was Mr. Hunsicker's Alma Mater. In 1848, he and his father founded "Freeland Seminary," an educational institution designed for young men and boys. He at once became the principal of the school, and three years later the proprietor. He continued as Principal of this school until 1865, when he leased the school and property to A. N. Fetterolf, one of his assistants for five years. During the time of his lease to Prof. F. he sold the school property to Rev. J. H. A. Bombroger, D. D., of Philadelphia, who, in connection with other enterprising persons, obtained a charter and founded Ursinus College. In 1850 Mr. Hunsicker was ordained to the ministry of the New (Oberholtzer) Mennonite church. On account of the liberal and progressive ideas in church work, a chism took place in 1851, which resulted in establishing an independent church, known as Trinity Christians, of which Mr. Hunsicker was one of the founders, and for which he continued to preach until 1875. VI. Henry W. Kratz, born in Perkiomen Twp., Montg. Co., Pa., July 31, 1834. At the age of five years he removed with his parents to the village of Trappe, Montg. Co., where at first he had the benefit of common school instruction, but later on received a thorough academic training at Washington Hall Collegiate Institute, under Joseph Hunsicker, Esq., and Professor Abel Rambo, where he was also prepared to enter the Sophomore class in College. Instead of taking a regular Collegiate course, however, as at first contemplated, he engaged in teaching and pursued that calling for eighteen years. During two years of that period he was tutor at his Alma Mater, under Prof. Rambo, teaching the English language and Mathematics.

In 1862 he was elected Justice of the Peace by the citizens of Upper Providence Twp., and was continued in that position for twenty years; during which time he devoted much of his attention to surveying, conveyancing, settling estates, and selling real estate; all of which resulted in a large and remunerative business. In 1866, through the efforts of Senator Horace Royer, he was appointed a transcribing clerk of the Senate of Pennsylvania at Harrisburg; and the year following was promoted to the double position of bill cook and message clerkships, which places he served with credit to himself and the satisfaction of the Senate.

In 1880 Mr. Kratz was nominated by acclamation for Recorder of Deeds by the Republican County Convention, and was elected by nearly five hundred majority. In serving that office he not only performed his duties faithfully and well, but was courteous and obliging in his official relations with the people. He was also one of the original number who organized the National Bank of Schwenksville, served as Director until January 1890, when he was elected President to succeed Jacob G. Schwenk, dec'd. He devotes much time and attention to that flourishing institution. He is prominently connected with Ursinus College at Collegeville, Montg. Co., being President of the Board of Directors, and a member of the Building Committee, which is superintending the erection of that massive and commodious structure known as "Bomberger Memorial Hall," on the College Campus. He is a member of the State Board of Agriculture; and while not a farmer, he has rendered valuable service to that body. He has been selected essayest upon several important occasions. He delivered two well-prepared essays on the road question which were well received and highly praised. He is manager and auditor of the Perkiomen and Reading Turnpike Company, and treasurer of the Times Publishing Company of Norristown. He was married to Myra Bean, May 26, 1857. She was born Nov. 30, 1828; died Oct. 17, 1887. After the death of his wife Mr. Kratz sold his beautiful residence at Trappe and moved to Norristown, where he now resides. His business career has been useful and valuable to himself and to the community in which he lived. He advanced the profession of teaching, acquired distinction as surveyor and accountant, and displayed executive ability in the management and settlement of estates. He has proved himself to be a man of integrity in the many positions of responsibility which he has occupied among his fellow-citizens. Children: Mary, Irwin, Kate, Jane, Henry.

IV. Veronica Kratz, born Oct. 27, 1778; died Jan. 13, 1821. Mrd. Isaac Fretz, son of Christian and Barbara Fretz, of Bedminster, Bucks Co., Pa., in 1800. Farmer and miller. Lived in Timicum Twp., on the farm now owned and occupied by Henry F. Myers. During his absence from home Mar. 4, 1804, his barn was struck by lightning and burned. On this occasion his wife Veronica displayed heroic energy in rescuing horses and cattle from the burning building, and undoubtedly would have perished herself in the flames had she not at least been held back by the neighbors. In spite of all efforts to rescue the cattle from the flames, one horse and fourteen (some say twenty-one) head of cattle perished. In 1815 he built the "Fretz Valley Mill," on the Tohickon Creek, and operated same in addition to farming. Successful in business, he became possessor of nearly 300 acres of land. Mennonites. In 1834 they emigrated to Wayne Co., O., and in 1835 to Putnam Co., which was then a dense wilderness. Although he lived on the banks of the Blanchard River, he had to go thirty miles to mill. For some years their bread stuff, which consisted mainly of corn, was all ground on a hand mill. The entire family shoes were made of wood. In 1856 he sold his farm and emigrated to Linn Co.,

Kansas, where he purchased a farm, which he worked for three years, then sold to his sons Jacob and John, and returned to Ohio, where he spent the remainder of his days with his daughters, Elizabeth and Fannie. He and wife were members of the Mennonite church, and assisted in building the first Mennonite meeting-house in Putnam Co., where they worshiped for a long time. She died Dec. 30, 1885, and closed a life of more than ordinary endurance and suffering. Nine years previous to her death she was operated upon for a heavy tumor. Her friends and the local physicians and other members of the profession who witnessed the operation gave her up in utter despair, but the operator, Dr. Atlee, of Philadelphia, assured them that there was still hope for her. This hope had been partly realized when, after many days of pain and patience, she was again able to attend to her household duties and to enjoy ordinary health. The dread disease, however, though subdued for a time, was not conquered, and nearly nine years later caused her death. She was about 50 years old. Her remains were interred in the Lower Salford Mennonite burying ground.

“ Rest in peace, thy toil is o’er,
Pain and sorrow never more
Shalt thou ever know,
But thy corpse beneath the sod—
Thou, within the light of God,
Shalt forever glow
Like a planet when the sun is low.”

AN INVITATION.

Arranged by Prof. D. H. ANDERS.

Composed by Rev. A. J. FRETZ.

Con Moto.

1. O come ye wea - ry ones of earth, And own your bless-ed
- 2 He came from heav'n you to re - deem, Re - deem from hell's e -
3. He came and suf - fered pain and loss, For man pol - lut - ed

Sav - ior's name, From heav - en to the earth ac - cursed, With ter - nal pains, And in his blood pure and se - rene, He'll by his sin, He bowed up - on Mount Cal - vary's cross, For

maj - es - ty he came, With maj - es - ty he came.
wash a - way your stains, He'll wash a - way your stains.
us to heav'n to bring, For us to heav'n to bring.

He pity showed for sinners blind,
He came and paid the awful debt;
He rolled the burden from our minds,
Which none will e'er regret.

O who can such great love reject?
Those dying groans refuse to hear;
Come, sinners, come, once more reflect,
And to your Lord draw near.

And when our life on earth is o'er—
Our sorrows ever at an end;
We'll gather on the heavenly shore,
Eternity to spend.

There! there, at Jesus bleeding side,
From sin and death we shall be free;
There evermore we will abide,
And praise for aye and aye.

WHEN THE MISTS HAVE CLEARED AWAY.

Con anima. mf

Music composed by REV. A. J. FRETZ.

Arranged by D. H. ANDERS.

1. When the mists have rolled in splen-dor, From the beau-ty of the hills,
2. If we err in hu-man blind-ness, And for-get that we are dust,
3. When the mists shall rise a-bore us, As our Fa-ther knows his own,

And the sun-shine warm and ten-der, Falls in beau-ty on the hills.
If we miss the law of kind-ness, When we strug-gle to be just:
Face to face with those that love us, We shall know as we are known,

We may read love's shin-ing let-ter, In the rain-bow of the spray:
Snow-y wings of peace shall cov-er, All the pain that clouds our day,
Just be-yond the dark-ened shad-ows Floats the gold-en fringe of day:

We shall know each oth-er bet-ter When the mists have clear'd a-way.
When the wea-ry watch is o-ver, And the mists have clear'd a-way.
We shall see its wond-rous bright-ness, When the mists have clear'd a-way.

CHORUS.

When the mists have clear'd a - way, When the mists have clear'd a - way,

In the dawn-ing of the morn-ing, When the mists have clear'd a - way,

We shall know as we are known, Nev-er more to walk a - lone,

In the dawn-ing of the morn-ing, When the mists have clear'd a - way,

VALEDICTION.

FRIENDS AND BROTHERS OF A COMMON ANCESTRY.

Ere we lay aside this volume and consign it to some obscure corner of the library, let us commune together.

We have read of him, our worthy ancestor, of his immediate descendants, of our fathers, of our contemporaries, of ourselves. They and we are now the substance of written history. Our names will be, to some extent, preserved from oblivion; and whether we approve or otherwise, it matters not.

To make history is man's evident mission; and if we make good history, we shall have no cause to wish it unknown. It should therefore be our aim to make clean history; not only on our own account, but on account of our posterity as well.

With what commendable pride may the honest, upright man look upon himself as the son of a noble sire; and how the paternal heart yearns toward a worthy son!

In view of this, it becomes our duty to endeavor to improve society, by each one contributing his moiety to that end. Are we accepting the task? Are we, the parents of the present generation, shouldering this burden of responsibility, and teaching our offspring in their turn to bear it too? Are we guarding our every word and deed, and inculcating on their minds just, moral and religious principles?

I fear that many of us have not an adequate conception of the onerous responsibilities involving us, as sons of the past and sires of the future. Possibly in that greed for gain which at the present time influences all nations and societies, many moral duties sink into comparative insignificance and are neglected. Be that as it may; when the accounts of human life are rendered up, our offenses will be found no less grave, nor the judgment less severe. He who will for a moment seriously pause and ponder, cannot fail to see, and, in all honesty, should admit, that as many of the young of this generation are being reared, thousands, aye, hundreds of thousands, of them are apt pupils of vice, and are, day by day, fitting themselves as apostles for the dissemination of immorality and crime.

Who is responsible? We, every one of us, in a greater or less degree; not alone as parents, but as elder brothers, as neighbors, or as strangers; consciously or unconsciously, we, and all with whom they come in contact, are daily and hourly teaching them by precept or example. Every untoward action of ours is seen and copied by some observing youth. Every unguarded expression is heard and repeated by some precocious juvenile. Is it any wonder, then, that morality does not keep pace with science?

We of the present day and generation are blessed with many conveniences that were not enjoyed by our fathers, and we should seek to transmit them to our posterity.

We are living in an age when the most valuable germs of ancient and modern wisdom, purified and concentrated, have advanced civilization far beyond even the elysian dreams of the "Eastern Magi."

Thus far in the history of the world, the present is the "Ne plus ultra" age of human enlightenment.

Search the archives of nations and find, if you can, a parallel to the progress of our own beloved America during the first century of its existence as a distinct power.

The haughty Nebuchadnezzar, when at the zenith of his grandeur, never dreamed that the "Great Babylon which I have built," could be surpassed; nor Solomon in all his glory with wisdom and knowledge; nor yet all the great and wise men of antiquity ever enjoyed or hoped to enjoy such comforts, such luxuries, such privileges, and such immunities as we of to-day.

Think for a moment of our illimitable resources; of our nation's vessels dotting every sea, its commerce carried on in every port, its products distributed throughout every land. Think of our vast continent traversed in all directions by iron bands of trade and travel, by innumerable threads of communication, by its hundred thousand highways and byways, and by its hundreds of rivers and lakes, natural channels of commerce. Think of its vast agricultural and animal products; of its exhaustless mineral deposits, developed and undeveloped, and of the countless thousands of useful mechanical appliances which, by man's genius, reduces human labor to a minimum and annihilates time and distance. Think of all this and assert if you can that the responsibilities resting on this people are not weighty. Who does not believe that the responsibilities of a people increase with their enlightenment?

The source of all our prosperity and power is evident. The daystar of Universal Christian Liberty has risen above the horizon of human events, shedding his refulgent glow o'er the awakening world, and humanity is emerging from the Plutonian darkness of ignorance and intolerance into the broad light of Christian love and fellowship.

Shall we go on and on increasing in knowledge, in wealth, in power, in grandeur? Not unless we continue in the way the Almighty has marked out for us. History furnishes many instances of ancient nations who knew not the God of Revelation, fallen to the dust from whence they sprang; and of others who, having known Him, departed from the way and likewise fell. Nineveh, Babylon, Egypt, Greece, Rome, all fell. From the very nature of affairs their doom was inevitable and they could not escape it. Their fabric, erected like the house on shifting sands, fell, and the fall thereof was great. Even God's "chosen people" sank from their high estate and calamities fell thick and heavy upon them. God's ways are mysterious and past finding out, but His laws are plain and immutable. They must be obeyed or certain destruction will follow.

No people can have true prosperity, true peace, or be truly happy without true religion. Not that religion of fanaticism and fear that invests God with terrible powers, one to be worshiped and propitiated to avoid the visitation of His annihilating wrath; not that form of religion that compels men to conform to the law and will of God through fear of eternal condemnation. No; but that form of religion that acknowledges God as the God of Love and Tenderness, who made the covenant with mankind whereby they may be redeemed through the mediation of His Divine Son.

A happy, peaceful and prosperous people should be a vigilant people. Eternal vigilance is not alone the price of liberty, but of virtue and integrity as well. Man's arch-enemy is ever watchful, seeking whom he may destroy; and when our vigilance relaxes, in that moment we fall.

Let us each and all determine that, regardless of the course pursued by others, we, at least, will transmit to our children a name that carries with it no reproach; and if we would have them free from taints of vice, we must keep them from contaminating influences, from evil associates, from pernicious literature; withal we must teach them self-reliance, and cultivate in them the will power to stand alone and resist the inevitable temptations of life.

Let us give each and all of our children a sound, practical education. Among our two hundred thousand public schools, our three hundred and twenty colleges and universities, beside thousands of other educational institutions, every one may have it who will. In this country there can be no longer any plea for ignorance among our native born. This epoch is becoming more and more one of specialists in all branches of human industry. Human knowledge is becoming so extended, and the sciences and the arts are ramifying out in so many directions, that it is impossible for any one individual to learn but a tithe of it all. Yet the fundamental principles of all knowledge are the same; and they should be acquired by every one. Society demands it, and science demands it. Even now many desirable positions can be obtained only through competitive examinations for eligibility. In such cases, what hope of success can an unqualified person have? Absolutely none.

This is pre-eminently an age of advancement and our real duty is improvement in all that tends to elevate and benefit our race. If we, as a people, cultivate all arts and sciences, strive for supremacy in knowledge, practice the tenets of our fathers, preserve inviolate the institutions reared by them, grant justice and equal rights to all, heed the injunctions of Holy Writ, and follow righteousness, there is no limit to the height we, as a nation, may attain. But if we disregard these things and employ our faculties to propagate evil, calamities will overwhelm in the moment when we think not, and we too will sink to rise no more. May the day soon dawn when the emblems of Universal Peace and Universal Liberty shall crown the summit of every hill in every clime! when every knee shall bend, and every head shall bow, acknowledging that God is God, and that he rules supreme in love and equity.
